Singapore Main strait—Beacons and rock.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 474 of 1895) that information has been received from Captain W. H. Fawkes, H.M.S. Mercury, dated 21st July 1895, of the under-mentioned particulars relating to beacons and a rock, among the islands in Singapore Main strait:—

1. The beacon previously situated at the north-west extreme of Tree island (Po. Angup) reef, or in approximately lat. $1^{\circ} 9' 30''$ N., long. $103^{\circ} 39' 35''$ E., has disappeared.
2. The beacon previously situated on the rock about half a mile south-eastward of Middle island (Po. Sabarut), or in approximately lat. $1^{\circ} 12' 35''$ N., long. $103^{\circ} 48' 35''$ E., has disappeared.
3. A coral reef, about half a cable in length north-west and south-east and very narrow, with a depth of 2 to 3 feet on it at low water springs, and deep water all round, lies N. 83° E., distant 2 cables, from the south point of Freshwater island (Po. Bukum); or approximately in lat. $1^{\circ} 18' 55''$ N., long. $103^{\circ} 47' 0''$ E.

Two masonry beacons, each about 2 feet above high water, and surmounted by a staff and cage 12 feet high, and bearing N.W. by N. and S.E. by S. from each other, mark the extremes of this reef.

4. Two similar beacons also mark the north-west and south-east sides of the isolated rock lying east, distant about 7 cables, from the north point of Freshwater island, or approximately in lat. $1^{\circ} 14' 25''$ N., long. $103^{\circ} 46' 40''$ E.

Mergui harbour—Revised Sailing Directions.

The following revised Sailing Directions, received from the Port Officer, Mergui, through the Director of the Royal Indian Marine, are published for general information:—

No stranger should attempt to enter until after the first quarter flood if of 10 feet draught, or till after half flood, if drawing more than 10 feet. At neaps, with local knowledge, a vessel of 15 feet-draught may enter after first quarter flood. Steer to pass about two cables to the westward of the beacon standing in 7 feet at low water, and marking the extreme of the sand spit projecting from the north-westward of Kalwin Point, and then shape course S.S.E. $\frac{1}{2}$ E. with a white-washed basket on the beacon trees near the water (on the mangroves about one mile north of the town) in line with a white-washed pagoda on a hill behind the town, until the right extreme of the market, a conspicuous white shed near the water's edge comes nearly in line with the Deputy Commissioner's house (on the hill) bearing south $\frac{1}{2}$ east.

From this position, which is $2\frac{1}{2}$ cables from the mangroves on Mergui island, steer for the Deputy Commissioner's house until the north end Pataw island bears W. by N. $\frac{1}{4}$ N.; the left extreme of the trees on Kalwin Point should now be kept astern bearing north a little easterly, this course taking the vessel 2 to $2\frac{1}{2}$ cables off the Mergui island shore, or steer to pass one cable west of the extreme of the main wharf, and anchor $1\frac{1}{2}$ cables W.S.W. or W.N.W. of it. These directions reversed will guide a steam-vessel in leaving the harbour.

A spit with 14 feet over it in places extends west from the end of the wharf for $1\frac{1}{2}$ cables. By anchoring as recommended this spit will be avoided, and vessels drawing not more than 15 feet nor more than 200 feet in length will have swinging room at low water.

No stranger should attempt to enter until after the first quarter flood if of 10 feet draught, or till after half flood, if drawing more than 10 feet. At neaps, with local knowledge, a vessel of 15 feet draught may enter after first quarter flood. Steer to pass about two cables to the westward of the beacon standing in 7 feet at low water, and marking the extreme of the sand spit projecting from the north-westward of Kalwin Point, and then shape course S.S.E. $\frac{1}{4}$ E. with a white-washed basket on the beacon trees near the water (on the mangroves about one mile north of the town) in line with a white-washed pagoda on a hill behind the town,* until the right extreme of the market, a conspicuous white shed near the water's edge comes nearly in line with the Deputy Commissioner's house (on the hill) bearing south $\frac{1}{4}$ east.

From this position, which is $2\frac{1}{2}$ cables from the mangroves on Mergui island, steer for the Deputy Commissioner's house until the north end Pataw island bears W. by N. $\frac{1}{4}$ N.; the left extreme of the trees on Kalwin Point should now be kept astern bearing north a little easterly, this course taking the vessel 2 to $2\frac{1}{2}$ cables off the Mergui island shore, or steer to pass one cable west of the extreme of the main wharf, and anchor $1\frac{1}{2}$ cables W.S.W. or W.N.W. of it. These directions reversed will guide a steam-vessel in leaving the harbour.

A spit with 14 feet over it in places extends west from the end of the wharf for $1\frac{1}{2}$ cables. By anchoring as recommended this spit will be avoided, and vessels drawing not more than 15 feet nor more than 200 feet in length will have swinging room at low water.

Port Adelaide river—Removal of No. 6 beacon.

THE President, Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given notice (No. 6 of 1895) that, in furtherance of the scheme for lighting the river by electricity, alterations will be at once commenced by removing No. 6 beacon to a position on the edge of the deep water cutting 400 feet (approximately) in a northerly direction from where it now stands.

While the structure is being taken down, a temporary light will be exhibited from a barge moored alongside, and such barge and light will remain in the same position until the new beacon is erected and the usual light shown therefrom.

As the erection of the beacon in the new position is proceeding, a temporary light will also be shown from the piles until the work is completed.

(1) Amended positions of Lumo Lumo and Larian islands.

With reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 120, dated 8th July last, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 550 of 1895) that the following amended positions are the results of recent examinations by the Netherlands Surveying vessel Banda namely:—

Lumo Lumo island, lat. $2^{\circ} 56'$ S., long. $117^{\circ} 33\frac{1}{2}'$ E.

Larian island, lat. $8^{\circ} 4'$ S., long. $117^{\circ} 42\frac{1}{2}'$ E. This is a small sandbank about 10 feet above low water, and probably covers at high water during the north-west monsoon. It is about 50 yards in extent, and forms the highest part of a reef of sand and coral, about 2 miles long and $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles broad with depths of 15 to 9 fathoms and less.

(2) Recently discovered shoals.

Also, with reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 241 of 1895:—

That the undermentioned shoals, lying south-eastward of Balabalagan or Little Paternoster islands, have recently been found and examined—

- (a) A patch of sand and coral with a least depth of 7 fathoms over it, about $1\frac{1}{10}$ miles long, N.N.W. and S.S.E., and about three-quarters of a mile broad, lies 8 miles N.E. by E. $\frac{1}{2}$ E. from Larian island, or approximately in lat. $8^{\circ} 0' 55''$ S., long. $117^{\circ} 49' 50''$ E.
- (b) A patch of sand and coral with a least depth of 6 fathoms over it, about half a mile long E.S.E. and W.N.W. and $1\frac{1}{2}$ cables wide, steep-to around, lies approximately in lat. $2^{\circ} 54' 55''$ S., long. $117^{\circ} 48' 40''$ E.
- (c) A coral patch of 7 fathoms, 4 cables long, S. by E. and N. by W., three-quarters of a cable wide, on a bank of 10 fathoms, $6\frac{1}{2}$ cables in length in the same direction, and $2\frac{1}{2}$ cables wide, lies approximately in lat. $2^{\circ} 51' 40''$ S., long. $118^{\circ} 14' 50''$ E.
- (d) A coral patch with a least depth of 11 fathoms, about half a cable long, S.S.E. and N.N.W., and three-quarters of a cable wide, lies approximately in lat. $2^{\circ} 58' 25''$ S., long. $118^{\circ} 15' 30''$ E.

AUSTRALIA, NORTH COAST—TORRES STRAIT.

Bank in western approach.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 606 of 1895) that information has been received that about 5h. p.m. on 11th August 1895, the French despatch-transport Durance obtained a sounding of 11 fathoms in approximately lat. $19^{\circ} 52\frac{1}{2}'$ S., long. $136^{\circ} 48'$ E., the water being discoloured for some miles both northward and southward of that position.

The vessel then steered W. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. for a distance of five miles, obtaining soundings of 14 to 18 fathoms, coral, mud, and hard bottom; then passing into a greater depth, and out of the discoloured water.

SOUTH PACIFIC OCEAN—FIJI ISLANDS.

Bank found in search for Zephyr shoal eastward of Fiji.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 608 of 1895) that in a recent search for Zephyr shoal a bank was found in approximately lat. $15^{\circ} 53'$ S., long. $176^{\circ} 46\frac{1}{2}'$ W.

The Penguin anchored on this bank in a depth of 21 fathoms, and obtained a least depth of 11 fathoms half a mile eastward of the above position, the extent of the bank being three-quarters of a mile, E. by S. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. and W. by N. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. It is possible that less water may exist on this bank.

In the course of this search the Zephyr's position (lat. $16^{\circ} 0'$ S., long. $177^{\circ} 6'$ W. as adopted) was passed and sounded over without shoal water being found. A further search will, however, be made, and in the meantime Zephyr shoal is retained on the Admiralty Chart.

AUSTRALIA, NORTH COAST—TORRES STRAIT.

Bank in western approach.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 606 of 1895) that information has been received that about 5h. p.m. on 11th August 1895, the French despatch-transport Durance obtained a sounding of 11 fathoms in approximately lat. $10^{\circ} 52' S.$, long. $138^{\circ} 48' E.$, the water being discoloured for some miles both northward and southward of that position.

The vessel then steered $W. \frac{1}{2} N.$ for a distance of five miles, obtaining soundings of 14 to 18 fathoms, coral, mud, and hard bottom; then passing into a greater depth, and out of the discoloured water.

SOUTH PACIFIC OCEAN—FIJI ISLANDS.

Bank found in search for Zephyr shoal eastward of Fiji.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 608 of 1895) that in a recent search for Zephyr shoal a bank was found in approximately lat. $15^{\circ} 53' S.$, long. $176^{\circ} 46' W.$

The Penguin anchored on this bank in a depth of 21 fathoms, and obtained a least depth of 11 fathoms half a mile eastward of the above position, the extent of the bank being three-quarters of a mile, E. by S. $\frac{1}{2} S.$ and W. by N. $\frac{1}{2} N.$ It is possible that less water may exist on this bank.

In the course of this search the Zephyr's position (lat. $16^{\circ} 0' S.$, long. $177^{\circ} 6' W.$ as adopted) was passed and sounded over without shoal water being found. A further search will, however, be made, and in the meantime Zephyr shoal is retained on the Admiralty Chart

Bank in western approach.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 606 of 1895) that information has been received that about 5h. p.m. on 11th August 1895, the French despatch-transport Durance obtained a sounding of 11 fathoms in approximately lat. $10^{\circ} 52\frac{1}{2}'$ S., long. $138^{\circ} 48'$ E., the water being discoloured for some miles both northward and southward of that position.

The vessel then steered W. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. for a distance of five miles, obtaining soundings of 14 to 18 fathoms, coral, mud, and hard bottom; then passing into a greater depth, and out of the discoloured water.

Bank found in search for Zephyr shoal eastward of Fiji.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 608 of 1895) that in a recent search for Zephyr shoal a bank was found in approximately lat. $15^{\circ} 53'$ S., long. $176^{\circ} 46\frac{1}{2}'$ W.

The Penguin anchored on this bank in a depth of 21 fathoms, and obtained a least depth of 11 fathoms half a mile eastward of the above position, the extent of the bank being three-quarters of a mile, E. by S. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. and W. by N. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. It is possible that less water may exist on this bank.

In the course of this search the Zephyr's position (lat. $16^{\circ} 0'$ S., long. $177^{\circ} 8'$ W. — adopted) was passed and sounded over without shoal water being found. A further search will, however, be made, and in the meantime Zephyr shoal is retained on the Admiralty Chart

1895.	Page.					Rs. A. P.
April 28th	20	Dy	1st.	...	Printed	0 1 0	Chandra Sekhar Sarma, Nischindipur, Thana Ghatal.	A story, written in vulgar and indecent language, describing how two women left their husbands' protection and took to a life of prostitution.	2384
Mar. 18th	15	12mo dy	1st.	550	ditto ...	0 2 0	The Author, Chinsura.	The story of a son ill-treating his parents at the instigation of his wife. In the opinion of the writer the story describes a state of things which is characteristic of the youth of the present day.	2385
April 10th	68	12mo dy	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 6 0	The Author, 9, Syambazar Street, Calcutta.	A mythological drama, describing how the great Sage Narad was cursed by his father Brahma and born a Gaudharva, and how he was again cursed by his father, gave up his life and was revived through the influence of his devoted wife, Malavati.	2386
1894
Dec. 24th	50	12mo dy	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 4 0	Dharmadas Sur, 6, Beadon Street, Calcutta.	Is a low farce intended as a protest against native radicalism in all forms and all matters, and is directed chiefly against those would-be reformers, who are supposed to be anxious to introduce in the Hindu community the Western customs of divorce, courtship, widow-marriage, and such like things. The proposed amendment of the law relating to the restitution of conjugal rights is regarded as an attempt at legalising divorce among the Hindus.	2387
" 25th	46	12mo dy	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 3 0	The publisher, 17, Tarak Chatterji's Lane, Calcutta.	This is a farce-like piece, of which the plot is as follows:—Yama commits the blunder of allowing a sinner, when brought before him after death, the choice of enjoying the fruits of his good deeds first. Now, the man's only good deed was the gift of a dying bull to a Brahman. This bull, which had also died and come to Yama's region, is placed at the man's disposal. With its help he ousts Yama from his throne and becomes the lord of his kingdom. After a time, when the virtue of his good deed was spent, he was called upon to take punishment for his sin. At this juncture, the Gods of the Trinity appear before him, and absolved from all sins by the sight, he goes to the region of Vishnu. This unexpected good fortune is explained as due to the man having in his life only mechanically recited the name of Hari.	2388
1895
Jan. 19th	95	12mo dy	1st...	1,100	ditto ...	0 6 0	This is a comedy describing the disorganisation caused in Hindu society by the lower orders in the caste-hierarchy leaving their hereditary occupations and entering into competition for Government service with the higher orders; by the higher orders taking to the occupations of the lower, and by the anxiety of all classes to eschew independent walks of life and live by service, obtained by means however low or dishonourable. The incidents of kerani life come in for some very hard hits.	2389

1894. Dec. 8th	64	12mo dy	1st...	500	ditto ...	0 4 0	Vaikuntha Nath Basu, Emerald Theatre, Beeson Street, Calcutta.	An opera describing Sri Krishna's love making with Râdhikâ. His faithlessness causes a temporary coolness (main) in the lady, and the story ends with the reconciliation of the lovers. The author professes to supply only the links between the songs, which are taken from the old Vaishnava poets.	2891
1895. Feb. 7th	140	8vo dy	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	1 0 0	Asutosh Mallik, 8, Dilli Sirdar-pur Road, Bâliganj.	A religious drama written with the object of inculcating faith in Hari. The hero, Chendrabâs, is a prince who is left an orphan in early life, but who, through his unshaken faith in Hari, eventually becomes the ruler of a great kingdom. The plot is clumsy and uninteresting.	2892
June 14th	91	12mo dy	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 8 0	Is an historical novel describing the re-establishment, in the 14th century, of Hindu rule in Bengal, by Râjâ Ganes Chandra Sinha, Zamindar of Dinâjpur, and his son's accession to the throne and conversion to Islam, after his death.	2893
March 13th	224	12mo dy	2nd... Revised.	1,000	ditto ...	1 0 0	The Author, 3, Bârn Mohan Sâhâ's Lane, Calcutta.	The story of a Hindu woman, who, from her early childhood evinces an inborn religious spirit, which manifests itself with her advancing years in acts of the utmost piety and devotion to the shrine of the goddess Kali in her house. She adores her father, lives a life of perpetual communion with the Goddess, forces by her spiritual influence her would-be seducers to abandon their wicked ways, and ultimately lays down her life with her husband while engaged in an act of spiritual communion.	2894
April 21st	270	12mo dy	1st...	2,000	ditto ...	1 8 0	The Author, 10, Baknibâgan Road, Bhowani-pur.	An historical novel describing the condition of Oudh in the early part of the present century. The story commences with Gaziuddin Haidar's accession to the throne of Oudh, and ends with his death by poisoning. Most of the characters are historical personages, and the incidents related have, more or less, reference to court intrigue, the oppression of the people by the officials, and the spoliation of the exchequer by the king's courtiers, native and European.	2895
Feb. 28th	314	16mo d or	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 12 0	A story depicting Bengali social life, written with the object of showing the superiority of Christianity over Hinduism and the worthless and mischievous character of many of the Hindu social and religious practices. The hero of the story, by birth a Hindu, becomes a convert to Christianity under the influence of Christian teaching and Western education. It is a missionary publication.	2896

Feb. 10th	225	12mo...	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 12 0	The Author, Sāntipur, Nadia.	The reminiscences of Chaitanya, written in verse by his personal servant, Govinda Dās, who was a native of Kāchanagar in the district of Burdwan. Govinda left his home in disgust after quarrelling with his wife, and met Chaitanya at a bathing ghat in Nadia. This happened shortly before the latter renounced the world. Entering Chaitanya's service, Govinda accompanied his master to Puri, and thence in his pilgrimage through the Deccan. And as he was the only person who was with his master during the pilgrimage, the book contains the only reliable narrative of a most eventful period of Chaitanya's life. Govinda's descriptions of nature and his remarks about the men and things he saw are characterised by a simplicity and naïveté, which is really charming. The reminiscences end with Govinda's return to Sāntipur by his master's order. The book is written in a simple and elegant style.	3032

1894 Dec. 22nd	400	16mo dc	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	2 9 0	Ananda Chandra Mitra.	This is an epic poem describing the birth of Rāja Rām Mohan Rāy at Rādhānagar, on the bank of the Dāmodar, in Bengal, in consequence of the austerities practised for several centuries by the Goddess India, with the object of moving Heaven to take pity on her morally, socially and politically degraded sons. Her austerities are incessant, except for a short break in the close of a century. In one of these breaks, her daughter, the Goddess Bengal, comes to her and narrates to her a dream she had dreamt of light coming to her sons from the West, of a city of palaces (Calcutta) growing up in their midst and of hundreds of warriors, dressed in white and with crowns on their shoulders, engaging in a conflict with them and thereby bringing about a revolution, unsettling their religious beliefs. In the midst of this revolution, a bright star suddenly drops from the sky and falls on the bank of the Dāmodar. This star, on falling, takes a heavenly form, sings a song of peace, re-assures men's minds, and then suddenly disappears. The light which it leaves behind goes on increasing, expelling darkness from the face of the world, and ultimately unites all humanity in a bond of peace and prosperity. Her story ended, she takes her departure, and her mother again engages in austerities. Centuries pass on and the gods engage in a war with the Dāityas (evil influences), and getting worsted seek the help of Brahmā (God), and through his grace become partially victorious. Divine mercy then announces the birth of a regenerator of the world in Bengal, who was to preach to humanity the true religion of jñāna , bhakti and karma , and to convert the world into an abode of peace and prosperity. After this announcement, the Goddess India, accompanied by the sages and prophets of all nations, then living in Heaven, sees the new born child and blesses him. A hymn in praise of Brahmā is then sung, and this brings the story to an end. The book proves that the writer possesses superior poetic powers.	3064

The book registers the thoughts and sentiments which the sight of the sea calls forth in the mind of the writer. Its perpetual motion painfully contrasts with the physical and intellectual inactivity of India and of Bengal socially; and the poet entrusts the sea either to engulf the latter or to impart to her a fraction of its own life and vigour. The reflection that entrusting their life and death into the hands of foreigners, the Bengalis should "drink each other's blood" and consider it a sin to embark on a sea-voyage is galling to the writer. In the course of the poem, a figure, whom the writer calls 'the poet of the sea,' rises from the waters, soars high in the air on a cloud and makes a survey of the world lying at his feet. He sees, among other things, Asia lying prostrate like a huge buffalo, supremely indifferent to what is going on about her, and Europe, wide-awake, with a sword reeking with human blood in her hand, making a feast on the "putrid dead body" of Africa and munching, in the name of religion, her bloodless veins and stony limbs. The moral which the writer wishes specially to inculcate is, that while the rest of the world is marching, India should not lag behind. Let her learn to sink her petty squabbles and jealousies and join the universal march onward.	3070

" 1st "	65	8vo rl	1st...	2,800	Printed.	1 0 0	ditto ...	Explains the theory of evolution in the garb of fiction. The author does not deny the existence of an intelligent creator.	3501
but the universe, according to him was not created in the way described in the Bible. He believes in the doctrine of biogenesis, and hence, according to him, those who slaughter cattle for food are doomed after death to be metamorphosed into cattle and slaughtered in their turn. Life is described as the outcome of a simple or complex system of organs, tissues, blood vessels, &c., animated by electro-magnetic ether with which the whole earth had been impregnated while in the nebulous stage. Soul is an emanation from the brain, and is infinitely progressive in the human brain only. The spirit is defined as an emanation from the soul and is an eternal, ethereal substance. The good spirit, after death passes through various stages of spiritual bliss, and at last "anchors at the feet of the Great Creator." The planet Mars is said to be the place where the righteous enjoy the delights of paradise, and the cold and arid Moon is described as the region where sinners suffer the miseries of Hell. In conclusion, the writer predicts a vast revolution which will simultaneously break out in all the States of Europe governed on the monarchical principle. The outcome of this revolution will be that a Grand Federation of all the States of Europe and America will be established with its head centre in Paris, and Royalty will be swept away at one stroke. The Royal Family of England, consenting to accept the rank and title of President, will be allowed to exist on that footing. The writer condemns in rather strong language the excise policy of the Government.
